Independent study is the term applied to a course of study not listed in the regular curriculum. In the Walker College of Business, it is offered at the following levels: 2500, 3500, 4500, 5500 (graduate level). Anyone seeking to pursue independent study must be either a candidate for a degree at Appalachian or working for teacher licensure.

To Be Completed by the Student:

Student’s Full Name (please print)______________________________
Banner ID_____________________________Telephone #_____________________________
Academic Class (circle) Grad Sr Jr So Fr Email address______________________________
GPA previous semester______ Cumulative GPA______

To Be Complete by the Consulting Instructor (add additional sheet if needed):

Course #______________________ Hours of Credit___________ Semester/Year_______________
Title of Study Project_________________________________________________________________

• Course Description and Objectives:

• Course Requirements (i.e. exams, research papers, reading list, schedule of conferences)

• Method of Evaluation

Consent of Instructor

Signature of Instructor_______________________________________________________________
Instructor’s Name (please print)________________________________________________________
Date________________________________________________________

To Be Completed by Departmental Chairperson

Application approved (circle) Yes No

Type of credit that can be received for this class (circle all approved options):

major elective  COB elective  3000/4000 level elective in or out of the COB other ________________

Signature of Chairperson_____________________________________________________________
Date________________________________________________________